On March 14th, 2022, KOMPETE was introduced to the trading market. There is no way to know how much is in storage. KOMPETE is currently valued at around $21,661,385.34 USD. At the time of writing, one unit of KOMPETE cost $0.0217, putting it at position #2805 on Coinmarketcap, a 55.88 percent increase from its previous low.

Although KOMPETE (KMP) has been listed on several cryptocurrency exchanges, it is not yet possible to buy KMP directly using USD or other fiat currencies. However, in this tutorial article, we will show you how to acquire KOMPETE by first acquiring Ethereum from any fiat-to-cryptocurrency exchangers, and then transferring your Ether to an exchange that trades this coin.

How to Buy Kompete Crypto?

1. First, register with the Fiat-to-Crypto Exchange

You'll need to invest first in a big cryptocurrency, like Ethereum (ETH). The two most popular fiat-to-cryptocurrency exchanges, Uphold.com and Coinbase, are discussed in depth below. We will compare the two markets, including their fees and other features. It is suggested that you test out both options to see which one works best for you.

The following are some of the many benefits of using Uphold, one of the most well-known and accessible fiat-to-cryptocurrency exchanges:

As one of the most popular and accessible fiat-to-cryptocurrency swaps, Uphold offers the following benefits:

- More than 50 assets are readily available for purchase and trading, with more on the way. Currently more than 7M users globally
- You can apply for an Uphold Debit card that allows you to spend crypto assets on your account just like a traditional debit card! (Exclusive to the United States, but will be available in the United Kingdom later)
- Easy to use mobile app where you may withdraw fund to a bank or any other cryptocurrency exchangers effortlessly
- No hidden fees and any extra account fees
- There are restricted buy/sell orders for more advanced users
- If you intend to retain cryptocurrencies for an extended period of time, it is simple to set up recurring deposits for Dollar Cost Averaging (DCA).
- USDT, which is one of the most popular USD-backed stablecoins (basically a crypto that is backed by real fiat money so they are less volatile and can be treated almost as the fiat money it's pegged with) is available, this is more convenient if the altcoin you intend to buy has only USDT trading pairs on the altcoin exchange so you don't have to go through another currency conversion while you buy the altcoin.

2. Purchase ETH with fiat money

After you've completed the necessary steps to prove your identity. One of your potential payment options will be requested. Here, you may use a debit or credit card, as well as a direct bank transfer, to make your payment. If you pay with a credit card, you can make a quick purchase but you might have to pay more in fees (because of your credit card company and price fluctuations). In some countries, you can make a low-fee quick cash deposit, whereas in others, a bank transfer will be cheaper but take longer.

Once you have chosen your fiat currency in the 'From' column and Ethereum in the 'To' field on the 'Transact' screen, you can verify your transaction by clicking the preview button and confirming it if everything appears good. Congratulations, you just made your first cryptocurrency purchase.

3. Transfer ETH to an Crypto Exchange

However, we must not rest until we have moved our KOMPETE to an exchange where it may be traded. If you want to trade KOMPETE in any of the markets shown below, visit one of the exchanges and open an account.

When you're done, you'll need to send some ETH from UpHold to the trading platform. KOMPETE can be purchased from the exchange view once the deposit has been validated.

It's worth noting that there are other major cryptocurrency markets with large user bases and sufficient daily trading volumes to warrant mention. This way, you can sell your coins whenever you want at a price that is usually lower than the market rate. After KOMPETE is listed on these exchanges, users will likely trade enormous amounts of KOMPETE, creating excellent trading possibilities for those who have registered with these exchanges.

KuCoin

The Seychelles are home to KuCoin, an exchange for digital currency (previously Hong Kong). KuCoin, which debuted in September 2017, states that its five million users come from more than two hundred nations and regions. KuCoin, also known as the People's Exchange, facilitates the buying and selling of cryptocurrencies as well as other blockchain-related services including staking, lending, futures trading, and more. In addition to supporting over 250 coins, the exchange offers 440 different trading pairings, making it one of the most robust marketplaces for digital assets. When KuCoin first started up, it had the support of two major traditional VC firms: IDG Capital and Matrix Partners. In addition, the exchange shared news of a USD 20 million round A funding from them at the year's conclusion. No restrictions on trading due to the presence of U.S. investors are shown. If you are a US-investor, you should always check to see if any barriers to your international bitcoin trading are imposed by your own state.

Gate.io

Founded in 2017, Gate.io is an American cryptocurrency exchange. Since it is based in the United States, traders and investors from the United States can use it without any problems. You can communicate in either English or Chinese (the latter being very helpful for Chinese investors). Trading pairs are Gate.io's bread and butter. All the latest alternative coins are listed here. A lot of transactions pass through Gate.io each day, which is remarkable in itself. It consistently ranks among the top 20 busiest exchanges worldwide. The daily volume of trade is close to $100 million. USDT (Tether) is usually one half of the top 10 trading pairs on Gate.io in terms of trading volume. To sum up, the extensive variety of trading pairs available on Gate.io and the amazing liquidity it provides are two of the exchange's most impressive features.

FAQs

1.Can I purchase KOMPETE in cash?

You can't just go out and buy some KOMPETE with cash. But you may buy ETH on a marketplace like LocalBitcoins and then move it to the appropriate AltCoin exchange to complete the process.

Exchange Bitcoin directly with other users through LocalBitcoins. It's a trading platform where people may purchase and sell Bitcoins with one another. In order to sell their wares, users (called traders) post advertising with details about the price and preferred method of payment. On the site, you can restrict your purchases to vendors located in a specific area. When you can't find your preferred mode of payment elsewhere, you should consider using to purchase Bitcoins. Unfortunately, costs are typically higher on this site, and extra precautions must be taken to avoid being a victim of fraud.
