As the US election campaigns heat up, the Politify token is regaining the interest of investors. Notably, since Donald Trump positioned himself as a proponent of cryptocurrency and criticized Democratic approaches, Donald Trump Tokens have been ranked among the most popular assets to buy in the Politify category.

Donald Trump has taken a commanding lead over Joe Biden - in the world of political meme coins, at least. Crypto tokens linked to the former U.S. president have leapt in volume and value in recent weeks as the November election heaves into view and the arch-rivals prepare for their first public debate.

Trump Drubs Biden In Meme Coins

With a combined market value of about $1 billion, the universe of the so-called “PolitiFi” tokens is tiny. Notably, the majority of those tokens are linked to Trump, who has presented himself as a champion for cryptocurrency, although he hasn’t offered specifics on his proposed crypto policy.

According to crypto platform CoinGecko, of the top 10 political meme coins by market value, seven are based on Trump, with many playing on Trump’s Make America Great Again slogan, such as MAGA and MAGA Hat. By comparison, while only one - Jeo Boden - is related to the current U.S. President Joe Biden, CoinGecko data shows.

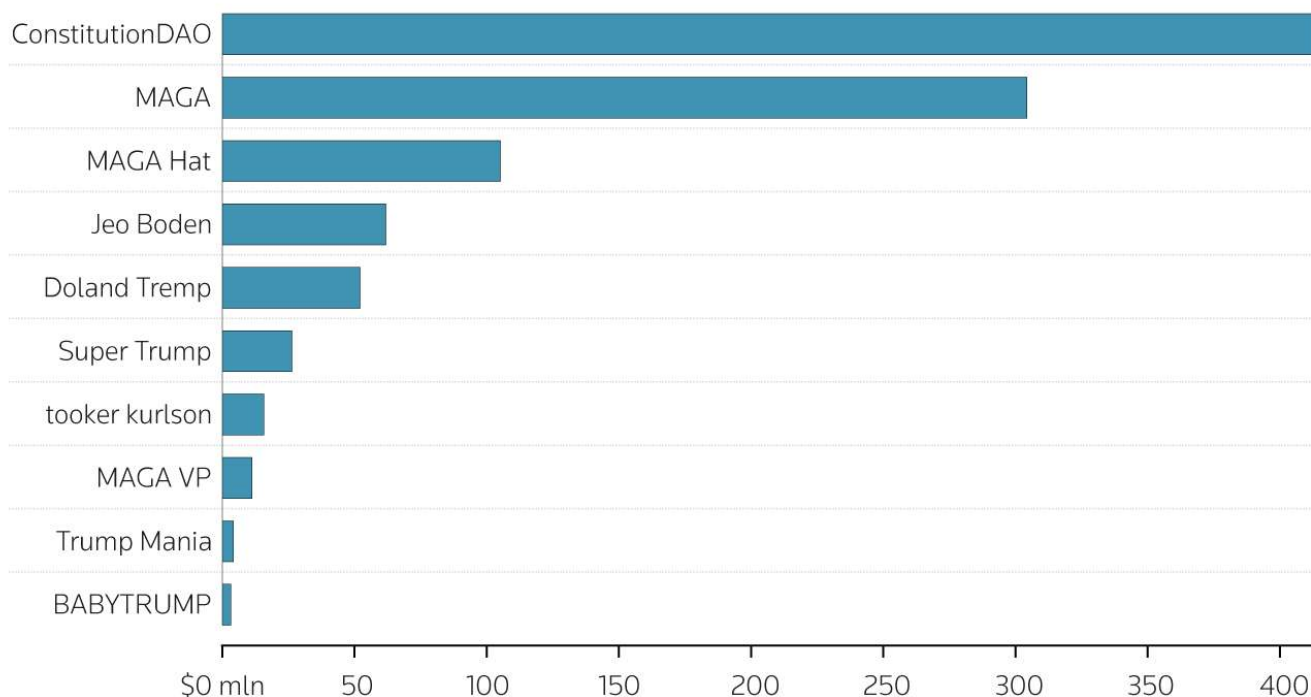

Crypto’s political tokens in the spotlight

While small in market value compared to meme coins, cryptocurrencies linked to political figures are gaining traction as US Presidential polls come closer.

Forrest Przybysz, a cryptocurrency trader and CEO of Sistine Research, said: "the more attention a token can hold and maintain, usually the higher its price will go ... he added. "Trump is an attention magnet. Therefore he is the ideal subject for a meme token." "We should expect price and speculation on a Trump-based meme token to rise as we get closer to the election," he said.

Anyway, amid recent weak crypto market, Politify tokens have attracting growing attention from crypto investors, especially Trump-themed coins. Next, we will introduce top three Trump-themed tokens to invest as the US election campaigns heat up.
